BUXUS SEMPERVIRENS WELLERI

BOXWOOD—Weller's Hardy Northern Type

HARDIEST BOXWOOD ON THE MARKET

The satisfaction of Buxus Welleri as the hardiest Boxwood on the market is well established, for they have been planted in every section of the country and repeat orders and unsolicited expressions from customers make us happy to continue to offer them.

Do not confuse with the Suffruticosa variety. Welleri has much better foliage and it grows faster, thus making a quicker and better hedge and still it may be trimmed and kept low and dense to any size in dwarf hedge form or edging.

General Information about Perennials For Cut Flowers

VARIETIES

All varieties best suited for Cutflowers have been marked with an (*). No Florist should be without any of them, although it is possible that a certain class suits one better than the other. Varieties shown in Heavy Type, are recommended for planting before others or to remind you that they should not be missed by any means.

BEFORE ORDERING

Before ordering, it is well to first study the requirements of your business; at which times of the summer the demand for cutflowers is the heaviest and when you have the smallest crop and variety of your own. The market for cutflowers at Decoration Day is unlimited, so that varieties blooming at that time are of most importance. The flowering time is given with each variety or species, which enables you to make your selections accurately. Further, the colors are given of each variety, so that if you want blue most of all, such varieties as Delphinium, Centaurea, Eupatorium, etc.; may be selected without difficulty. We advise planting a general variety under most circumstances, which prevents a surplus crop at any one time, but protects you against shortages at all times.

FALL PLANTING AND WINTER PROTECTION

To obtain the largest crop of flowers the first year at the proper time, planting should be done in the fall. Early planting is advisable, so that the plants can become thoroughly established before winter. Most important in fall planting, is, that the land is well drained, so that no excessive moisture can collect during the winter and early spring. Plant Perennials the same depth as they grew in the nursery and after planting, hill up the soil around the plants to about two inches, not packing down the hills at all. As soon as the ground is frozen and winter seems permanent, cover up rows with straw or corn stalks, which should be taken off as soon as the danger of frost has passed, at the same time leveling down the hills from the plants.

SPRING PLANTING

Spring planting suits nearly all situations, except that there is seldom time enough to do the work properly. Perennials planted in the spring will not flower as profusely the first summer as those planted in the fall. Orders for spring delivery will be reserved until the proper time, but owing to the scarcity of some of the outstanding varieties, we advise that you place your order now to avoid disappointment later.
